

Notice of cancellation of the 2020 Sakuramichi International Nature Run

The 2020 Sakuramichi International Nature Run Executive Committee has decided to cancel the event (2020 Sakuramichi International Nature Run) that was planned to be held from April 17th (Fri) to the 20th (Mon), 2020, due to the spread of the new coronavirus infection in Japan.

We have been preparing for the event up to this point, but this race runs a long distance of 250 km over two days, and there would be many interactions between runners and aid staff at the aid stations provided every 5 km. The risk of infection is considered very high, with a subsequent likelihood of it spreading further. In addition, at this time, it is extremely difficult to take thorough measures to prevent infectious diseases due to the lack of masks and disinfectants throughout the country, and with the health and safety of the runners, staff, volunteers, and those who support us along the road being our top priority, we have decided to cancel the nature run.

We will be contacting the runners and other relevant people who support the event.

We would like to apologize for the inconvenience and we ask for your understanding.
